Warranty Policy

Policy ID: WAR-POL-001 | Version: 1.0 | Effective: April 1, 2026

This policy describes manufacturer and store-backed warranty coverage for products sold in-store and online. Warranty coverage begins on the date of purchase as shown on the original receipt or order confirmation, not on the delivery date for shipped orders — a distinction that matters for items with long shipping windows, where the gap between purchase and delivery can itself run several days.

Coverage by Category

Category	Coverage	Duration
Major Appliances	Parts	2 years
	Labor	1 year
Electronics (general)	Full replacement	90 days
Furniture	Structural frame	5 years
	Upholstery/fabric	1 year
Small kitchen appliances	Full replacement	1 year

Filing a Claim

Claims must be filed within the coverage window shown above, with proof of purchase. Store associates can initiate a claim in-app or in-store; online purchases can be claimed through the order history page. A claim requires the product's serial number, which must match the number on file from the original sale — a mismatched or missing serial number is the single most common reason a claim is initially flagged for manual review rather than processed automatically.

Extended Warranty Add-On

An optional extended warranty may be purchased at the time of sale (not afterward — extended warranty cannot be added retroactively to a purchase already completed) for eligible categories. Extended coverage adds an additional 1 year to the standard duration in the table above, at a cost of 8% of the item's purchase price. Extended warranty follows the same claim process described above; it does not have a separate process or separate claim form.

Warranty Transfer

Warranty coverage is tied to the original purchaser and the original receipt, not the product itself. If a covered item is gifted, resold, or otherwise transferred to a new owner, warranty coverage does not transfer automatically — the new owner must register the transfer within 30 days of taking possession, providing the original receipt and the original purchaser's written consent, for coverage to continue under the new owner's name for the remainder of the original window.

International and Online-Only Purchases

Items purchased online and shipped to an address outside the country of sale are covered under this policy only if the item is also returned to a domestic service location for any warranty claim — shipping costs for sending an item back for warranty service from outside the country of sale are the customer's responsibility, unlike domestic warranty service where the store covers return shipping for an approved claim.

Exclusions and Denied Claims

Warranty coverage does not apply to damage caused by misuse, unauthorized repair attempts, normal wear on upholstery or fabric beyond the first year, or products with removed or altered serial numbers. Cosmetic damage that does not affect function is not covered under any category above.

If a warranty claim is denied under this section, the customer may still be eligible for a standard return under Returns Policy RET-POL-001, provided the item still falls within that policy's applicable return window (Section 1 or Section 3.1, depending on category) — a denied warranty claim and an expired return window are independent conditions, and a claim can fail one while still qualifying under the other.

Repair vs. Replacement Determination

When a claim is approved, the determination between repair and full replacement is made by the servicing technician, not the customer or the associate who filed the claim, based on parts availability and cost. As a general guideline, repair is attempted first when the item is under one year old and parts are in stock; replacement is offered directly when repair cost would exceed 60% of the item's original purchase price, or when parts are discontinued.
